Derby People that Care

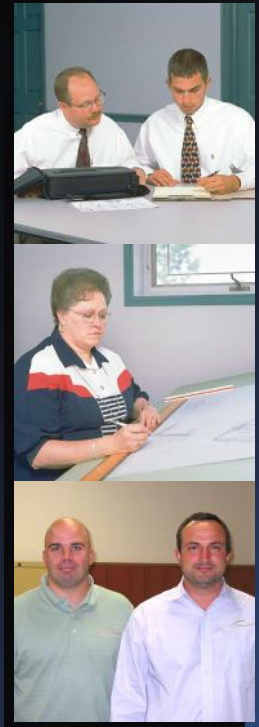

Family Owned and Operated Since 1975

Derby Custom Cases was founded in 1975 by Andrew and David Karafa. Their goal was to create a business that would be the recognized industry leader for excellent quality, custom designed and manufactured cases. Now, with the addition of second generation family members and key employees into the management team, Derby can bring a new dimension of leadership to insure our customers the innovative products and quality service that they have come to expect.

At Derby We First Listen to Your Needs - Then We Create

If you are looking for a company that works like part of your own design team, there is only one choice - Derby. You can incorporate our many years of innovative design experience, combined with your concept, to create a functional and attractive case that fits your image, as well as your budget. What also sets us apart is our attitude, our willingness to go beyond the ordinary. When you need a prototype for a specific product, we can develop one for your approval often within the same week as your request. In fact, our initial design usually includes more than one option. Then we work with you until the design fits your needs perfectly. Using the finest materials available from our reliable time-proven vendors, state-of-the-art equipment, modern efficient facilities, and utilizing the best people, we can produce your product with consistency in material, quality and delivery, time-and-time again.

Each phase in the production of a Derby case involves talented people who take pride in contributing to the high standards associated with all of our cases. From the precise cutting, heat sealing and sewing operations specified by our patterns, to final inspection and delivery...you can be assured of a product exactly suited to your needs. Best of all, you can count on us for a competitive price. Whether it is a large or small production run, our equipment has the efficiency to keep your costs reasonable. So the next time you need a custom case, think of Derby. You'll discover that a Derby case is one of the best protection investments you can make for your product.
